

SOLIDARITY IN HEALTH AND HEALTHCARE

–

INTERNATIONAL SYMPOSIUM

May 20th – 21st, 2025

University of Vienna

In recent years, in the wake of a series of health and environmental crises and following advances in the development of medical technology, questions regarding solidarity have become relevant to a growing number of areas in the fields of medicine, bioethics and public health. This symposium discusses the different aspects of solidarity as a social determinant of health. By discussing original papers on biobanks, priority setting, organ donations, care, Covid-19, human milk banks and more, the attendees of this workshop will learn about the key role solidarity plays in healthcare today. We would like to invite everyone to join us for the opening keynote lecture by Professor Sally Scholz on 19 May 2025 at 17:00 CET. The symposium will then commence on May 20th in the morning and officially end on May 21st at 13:00 CET.

Papers will be circulated for pre-reading two weeks before the workshop and a complete program will be published in January 2025. We encourage students in all levels and faculty members to attend the presentations.

To attend please register here:

<https://www.termino.gv.at/meet/en/p/f638906a3254259771c6d7b8b64498f7-371710>

Symposium:

University of Vienna
Erika-Weinzierl-Saal in the main building
Universitätsring 1, 1010 Wien

Keynote lecture by Professor Sally Scholz:

19 May 2025 at 17:00 CET.
Alte Kapelle
Campus der Universität Wien (Hof 1)
Spitalgasse 2, 1090 Wien

For further information please contact: Elias Weiss - elias.weiss@univie.ac.at

Conveners: Prof. Barbara Prainsack, University of Vienna; Prof. Hagai Boas, Van Leer Jerusalem Institute and Ben-Gurion University of the Negev; Prof. Dani Filc, Ben-Gurion University of the Negev

